At the Grand
STAR BILL ON TODAY
"The Saphhead," starring Buster Keaton and William H. Crane, is to be the feature photoplay offering at the Grand today.
The picture is recommended for those who enjoy the clean comedy drama founded on a clever idea, that has been faultlessly acted not only by the co-stars but by the entire supporting cast. The story of "The Saphhead" tells how Buster as the "saphhead" son of a Wall street king foils the crooked broker who has planned to ruin the family fortune and also wins the girl of his heart.
The picture is an adaptation of Winchell Smith's "The New Henrietta." Mr. Smith, who is America's most prominent playwright and author of such successes as "The Fortune Hunter," "The Wise Fools," etc., personally supervised the filming of the production.
Besides Mr. Crane and Buster Keaton are such well known players as Irving Cummings and Edward Connelly. The production which Metro has given "The Saphhead" ranks with the really big pictures of the year. Several big sets, among which is an exact reproduction of the New York stock exchange are provided.

CLOWN FOLLOWS FATHER IN FAVOR OF THE PUBLIC
In the days of singing and talking clowns, Johnny Barlow was emperor of clown alley, as the funny men's aisles in the circus dressing rooms are termed. Throughout the United States and Canada, John Barlow, star funster, was as well known as Charlie Chaplin is today. When Johnny sang his ballads and uproarious ditties, the circus audiences joined in the choruses, and then made Johnny repeat so that they might miss nothing of his art. Today, Johnny's son, Johnny Barlow, Jr., stars in the great three-ring, two stage Howe's Great London Circus and Van Amburg's Trained Wild Animals performance. The king is dead. Long live the king. Thus, the Barlow dynasty of laughter is still reigning under Howe's Great London and Van Amburg's Trained Wild Animals big top. He will be seen when in Palatka, Monday, October 31st.

BOB JAMES BEGINS WORK ON THREE NEW HOUSES
Bob James has just begun work on three new houses, two bungalows and a two story residence, on his property on Hotel street. They will be pushed to completion at the earliest possible moment.
This will make six houses that Mr. James has erected here during the last few months. He has completed three and they are already occupied. He has but two lots left on the tract he bought some months ago from Miss Anna G. Burt, and these two lots, fronting on River street, are much sought after. He has not yet decided whether he will sell them or build houses on them.

SONS OF JACOB GIVE FIRST SOCIAL AFFAIR
The first social affair given by the congregation Sons of Jacob, was held Monday evening at the residence of Rabbi Schemer, on Kirkland street, commemorating Simchath Tora. This is known as the anniversary of the day on which the Hebrews completed the reading of the fifth book of Moses and accepted the Torah as their divine book of instruction. Rabbi Schemer conducted services of the evening, M. Kanner, president of the congregation, delivered a very interesting address in which he related the history of this occasion and in concluding, expressed his gratitude to the members present, for the harmony and cooperation they have exemplified in the past few months which has made this young organization a huge success. At a late hour a banquet was tendered and enjoyed by the members and their families. This is the beginning of a series of social events to be given by the congregation.

EVERYBODY SICK OF WAR.
Poles and Germans both snarl at the award of Silesian territory made by the League of Nations, but they will probably both accept it. From all accounts, the League has divided the disputed territory about as justly as anybody could. Even so, the two nations might start fighting, except for one thing. They, like all other Europeans, are sick of war.
The extent to which this spirit prevails has hardly been realized by Americans. News dispatches which tell of fighting here and there may be deceptive. The Jugo-Slavs and Albanians have been doing some skirmishing, but careful observers say it will hardly grow serious—they have suffered too much already. Austria and Hungary have composed their territorial differences. Recent talk of war between Russia and Roumania has died down. Even Greece and Turkey have practically quit fighting.
It is one of the most obvious signs of the time—obvious to everybody but professional military men and professional diplomats. The civilized nations are sick of war, and human intelligence more and more represents senseless squabbles over territory. In that fact—the turning of the common people against war—lies the real hope for the future. Statesmen sooner or later will have to recognize the situation and work out a different scheme of international relations, based on real values rather than on savage passions and outworn traditions.
Winter will have to go some to be any harder than summer was.
